The design patent and trade dress infringement action commenced by Sunburst Products, Inc. d/b/a Freestyle U.S.A. in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, which was premised upon Philip Morris' distribution of the Waist Pak in the MAT catalog, was settled for $520,000. The amount is substantially less than claimed by Sunburst. Given the facts and issues present in this case, we consider this a favorable resolution of the dispute.
